Are we required to use the revised set?

The ArchiMate® Specification does not have color requirements. Go ahead and use this alternative version of the classic color set, your company branding colors, or none at all. Whatever will convey the message you are trying to share with your model, should be what you use.

You are encouraged to utilize it!

The Forum is excited about the new color palette and would like to see it widely adopted. You will see it on all future publications from The Open Group.
